Response to Amendment

1. The amendment filed on December 12, 2005 has been entered.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPO 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

- 3. Claims 1-7,9-12, 14-15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7, 7, 7, 8, 8, 23, 26, 7, 7, 7, 26, 24, 24, respectively of U.S. Patent No. 6,720,561 B2. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the Patent discloses all of the limitations set forth in the instant application. (NOTE: moisture resistant layer = encapsulating layer, protective layer = moisture resistant layer)
- 4. Claims 8 and 13 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7 and 7, respectively, of U.S. Patent No. 6,720,561 B2 ('561) in view of Schaffer (US Patent 4,546,251 A1). Regarding the claims, the '561 patent discloses the limitations set forth in the respective independent claims but does not specify that the protective layer is made of a plastic. Schaffer discloses an x-ray detector with a protective plastic layer (column 3, lines 12-17). One of ordinary skill in the art would be motivated to use the plastic cover as disclosed by Schaffer with the invention as disclosed by the '561 Patent in order increase the protection over the detection elements.

Application/Control Number: 10/735,311 Page 3

Art Unit: 2884

Allowable Subject Matter

- 5. Claims 16-30 are allowed.
- 6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 16-30, none of the prior art of record specifies or makes obvious a radiation/x-ray detection assembly, namely the specific positioning of the detection layers such that the moisture resistant layer is positioned within the claimed detector in such a way that an edge portion of the moisture resistant layer is bonded to the detector substrate between the adhesive material and the contact finger area. Although references such as Sato (previously cited) and the parent application disclose many of the conventional elements (substrate, matrix, scintillator, moisture resistant layer, protective cover and adhesive), the references do not specify the exact positioning of the moisture resistant layer as stated above.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Art Unit: 2884

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments, filed December 12, 2005, with respect to claims 1-30 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made (see above).

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christine Sung whose telephone number is 571-272-2448. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday- Friday 7-3 pm.
